Notes:

1. The home team is required to supply the scorecard and the afternoon tea.
2. The away team is required to supply 4 Tennis Victoria approved new tennis balls.
3. The scorecard is to be given by the winning team to a Senior Match Committee Representative at the Presentation Venue.
4. The presentation of trophies for all teams participating in the Grand Finals and for the Most Consistent Player Awards will be held at the Presentation Venue(s). Please encourage the winners of the Most Consistent Player to pick up their trophies if they are not participating in the Grand Finals.
 - Presentation Venue for Mixed sections (1-2): Werribee TC (Start Time: 4.30pm)
 - Presentation Venue for Mixed sections (3-4) & all Pennant sections: Williamstown Bayside TC (Start Time: 4.00pm)
5. For teams using 3 male and/or 3 female players in the Senior Mixed finals, see attached sheet providing guidelines when using extra players in finals.
For teams using a 3rd player in the Senior Pennant finals, see attached sheet providing guidelines when using extra players in finals.
6. Please ensure that any player used in finals is properly qualified to play.
7. All matches need to be played out on the day (if possible). No match can finish in a tie – a mixed doubles set of any combination needs to be played to determine the outcome (Mixed Competition only). Before abandoning any match due to adverse conditions, teams must consult the Administrator. Please note that the rules for abandoning matches due to adverse conditions have recently changed.
8. The WRTA Bylaws has all the current competition rules. This document can be found on the WRTA website: www.wrta.net.au

If you have any queries, please don't hesitate to contact me on 0418 145 503. Good luck to all.

ADDITIONAL PLAYERS IN FINALS SERIES

When using extra player(s) in the mixed finals, fill in the scorecard BEFORE the match starts and make your opposition aware of your intention of using extra player(s). Play your mixed sets in proper order so no confusion arises when the extra player(s) take part in the mixed doubles sets. PLEASE NOTE: If the players play in the incorrect position, your team will lose the associated sets - and perhaps the match.

➤ The basic rules for the Mixed format are:

3 men in the team

- No. 1 male player (1M) plays 4 sets.
- No. 2 male player (2M) plays 2 mens doubles sets.
- No. 3 male player (3M) plays 2 mixed doubles sets, basically replacing the no. 2 male player (2M) for the remainder of the match.

3 women in the team

- No. 1 female player (1W) plays 4 sets.
- No. 2 female player (2W) plays 2 womens doubles sets.
- No. 3 female player (3W) plays 2 mixed doubles sets, basically replacing the no. 2 female player (2W) for the remainder of the match.

For example, if one team uses an extra male player and an extra female player, the sets played would be as follows:

No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 2 male player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 2 male player & No. 2 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player

Another example, if both teams use an extra male player and an extra female player, the sets played would be as follows:

No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player

Another example, if mixed pairs are switched is:

No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 3 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 3 male player & No. 1 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 3 male player & No. 1 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 3 female player

Yet another example, if mixed pairs are switched is:

No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 2 male player
No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player	vs	No. 1 female player & No. 2 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 3 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 3 male player & No. 1 female player
No. 1 male player & No. 1 female player	vs	No. 3 male player & No. 1 female player
No. 3 male player & No. 3 female player	vs	No. 1 male player & No. 3 female player

When using extra player(s) in the pennant finals, fill in the scorecard BEFORE the match starts and make your opposition aware of your intention of using extra player(s). Play your sets in proper order to avoid confusion. PLEASE NOTE: If the players play in the incorrect position, your team will lose the associated sets - and perhaps the match.

➤ The basic rules for the Pennant format are:

3 players in the team

- No. 1 player plays 2 sets, excluding the doubles set
- No. 2 player plays 2 sets, excluding the first singles set (2 vs 2)
- No. 3 player plays 2 sets that are mentioned above

For example, if one team uses an extra player, the sets played would be as follows:

No. 1 player	vs	No. 1 player
No. 3 player	vs	No. 2 player
No. 1 player	vs	No. 2 player
No. 2 player	vs	No. 1 player
No. 2 player & No. 3 player	vs	No. 1 player & No. 2 player

Another example, if both teams use an extra player, the sets played would be as follows:

No. 1 player	vs	No. 1 player
No. 3 player	vs	No. 3 player
No. 1 player	vs	No. 2 player
No. 2 player	vs	No. 1 player
No. 2 player & No. 3 player	vs	No. 2 player & No. 3 player
